

Beyond the Sun

I wanted to run, wanted to hide
Tear down my walls from the inside
Bridges have burned, lessons unlearned
I felt lost in the universe

I needed a guide for the voices I fight
Violence wrecks havoc in this mind
Then there you were, breaking my curse
Accepting my failures, accepting my worst

Contain this rage
Release me from this cage

I wanted to learn
I wanted to rise
I wanted to feel alive

I was the one you brought beyond the sun
You've taken my soul home

To be among stars (to be divine)
Forfeit my soul, and own all my scars (through cosmic skies)

I wanted to learn
I wanted to rise
I wanted to feel something better than this life
